Q-Project to deliver internal audit and governance, risk and compliance solutions based on ClearPriority's Real-time Operational Intelligence Platform

BRUSSELS. May 1st 2013 – ClearPriority, leader in real-time Operational Intelligence today announced that it has entered into a solutions partner agreement with Q-Project, a Belgium-based management consulting firm, to help local and French speaking markets address internal audit and governance, risk and compliance issues.

Increased regulatory scrutiny, constrained budgets and expanding risk assessment responsibilities are affecting firms globally, particularly across their audit departments. Firms must increasingly leverage the latest technology to optimize their audit and risk management capabilities and reduce the cost and time associated with audit and risk management activity. Issues such as the scale and complexity of SAP installations require extensive cross systems controls and risk indicator checks for example.

This partnership alliance will combine Q-Project's expertise in consulting and systems integration with ClearPriority's ability to enable rapid development and deployment of event-based continuous monitoring applications. That will strengthen a Q-Project Client's ability to extend "ticking off" practices into real-time analysis in anticipation of critical situations and to act on opportunities, threats and problems as they occur.

"We believe that the ClearPriority Intelligence Platform will make it easier for Q-Project Clients to manage a complex and distributed environment. The solution consolidates risk-related data from multiple network, platform and application sources. Near real-time data extraction, transformation and correlation capabilities will let Q-Project's Clients keep an eye on operational activity and RedFlag threats and opportunities whilst they are still relevant and can be addressed."
Christophe Delcorte CEO ClearPriority

"Working with ClearPriority will ensure that firms have access to the best in class integrated Operational Intelligence solutions, providing the platform to effectively react to Key Risk, Opportunity and/or Performance Indicator information in support of the increased demand to better integrate Governance, Risk Management and Compliance activities in a cost effective way. Organizations are looking to work smarter and more efficiently, so there is a need for automated and integrated technology that allows firms to remain agile in times of shifting business requirements."

Q-Project Management Consulting - operates in the areas of Information Technology & Security Guidance and Auditing & Risk Management Implementation Advice.

These services are delivered in a wide variety of business sectors and sizes, emphasising on a pragmatic approach, using highly qualified professionals with proven competence in their specific domain of expertise.

QPMC offices are located in Grobbendonk, Belgium, servicing the Benelux, Germany, Switzerland and France. Outside of Europe, Q-Project has partnerships that cover North, West and Central Africa through a close collaboration with Amyris Consultance in Abidjan, Ivory Coast and with Consilium in Casablanca, Morocco.

ClearPriority - provides non-technical staff with the ability to understand situations that require continuous monitoring and reaction in real-time and that can present threats and/or opportunities to any or all parts of an organization. These experts will design and implement the operational intelligence system through the use of a simple graphical event modeling tool and a highly intelligent operational intelligence platform.

This capability is delivered through two main components:
- The Real-Time Operational Intelligence Platform - that enables business users to implement critical real-time operational intelligence to observe, orient, decide and act on business situations.
- RedFlag Operational Intelligence Solutions – Tailor-able Solutions built on a library of pre-defined events and RedFlag alert scenarios based on combinations of those events that bring immediate visibility and deep situational awareness to risk-sensitive business domains.
